WHAT IS OXFAM?

Oxfam is a development, relief, and campaigning organisation that works with others to overcome poverty and suffering around the world. There are three elements to its campaign:

Campaigning for Change

Poverty isn't just about lack of resources. In a wealthy world it's about bad decisions made by powerful people. Oxfam campaigns hard, putting pressure on leaders, for real lasting change.

Development Work

Poor people can take control, solve their own problems, and rely on themselves – with the right support. Fighting poverty, Oxfam fund long-term work worldwide.

Emergency Response

People need help in an emergency – fast. Oxfam saves lives, swiftly delivering aid, support and protection; and it helps people prepare for future crises.
